This is an Associate Dean classification that assists in overseeing, controlling, and directing all activities of the Technology and Health Department, including short- and long-term planning and development and administration of departmental policies, procedures, and programs. This class provides assistance to the Dean, Technology and Health in a variety of administrative, coordinative, analytical, and liaison capacities. Successful performance of the work requires knowledge of education policy and District functions and activities and the ability to develop, oversee, and implement projects and programs in a variety of areas. Responsibilities include coordinating the activities of the department with those of other divisions and departments and assisting in managing and overseeing the complex and varied functions of the department. This class is distinguished from the Dean, Technology and Health in that the latter has overall management responsibility for all department academic functions, programs, and activities, for accomplishing departmental planning and operational goals and objectives, and for furthering District goals and objectives within general policy guidelines.

Examples of Essential Functions(Illustrative Only):

1. Plans, organizes, controls, and directs designated functions, activities, programs, and services of the Technology and Health Department; assists in establishing and maintaining department timelines and priorities; ensures related activities comply with established standards, requirements, grant specifications, laws, codes, regulations, policies, and procedures.
2. Assists with department-wide educational planning and program development; administers and monitors assigned programs and services to ensure compliance with established curriculum and content standards and requirements; participates in development, analysis, and implementation of curriculum standards to meet student needs; develops and recommends new courses and instructional activities as needed.
3. Coordinates and directs communications, personnel, resources, curriculum, schedules, and information to meet the instructional needs of the Technology and Health Department and enhance the educational effectiveness of assigned programs and services.
4. Selects, trains, motivates, and directs department personnel; evaluates and reviews work for acceptability and conformance with department standards, including program and project priorities and performance evaluations; works with employees on performance issues; implements discipline and termination procedures; responds to staff questions and concerns.
5. Assists Dean in conducting faculty review, including four-year probationary evaluation process, class visitations, and administrative evaluations.
6. Participates in the development, management, and administration of the departments annual budget; directs the forecast of additional funds needed for staffing, equipment, materials, and supplies; directs the monitoring of and approves expenditures; directs and implements adjustments as
