Job Description

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW:

The Department of Automotive Technology is dedicated to producing high quality, entry-level automotive technicians. We accomplish this by providing our students with ASE Education Foundation Certified automotive programs. Students have the option of the General (non-manufacture specific) program, the Honda PACT program, or our heavy-duty diesel Kenworth program. The new member of our team should look forward to the challenges of maintaining and improving the high standards of our various programs.

The successful candidate will be responsible for developing and delivering instructional lectures and labs for Automotive or Diesel Technology courses up to 20 hours/week; organizing and teaching all levels of automotive technology classes; using appropriate teaching methods to facilitate student
