Requisition Number: FAC00485

General Description

The Department of Advising invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty Academic Advisor for the 2025-2026 academic year.

This position is integral to our dynamic and growing department, reporting to the department head of Academic Advising. Faculty Academic Advisors provide proactive advising to current and prospective students, assisting them in exploring their choice of major and career goals while creating educational plans for academic and social success. Please note - this is a non-teaching role.

In this role, you will deliver extensive academic advising to a caseload of students through individual and group sessions, both in-person and virtually. Responsibilities include interpreting placement test scores, facilitating New Student Registration Events, and staying updated on institutional changes. You will track student progress, utilize technology-enabled advising tools, and connect students with appropriate resources and support services. Strong communication skills are essential as you advocate for students and foster relationships across departments. Additionally, you will engage in ongoing professional development and assessment of advising services to enhance student success. If you are passionate about empowering students and committed to their educational journeys, we encourage you to apply!
