Requisition Number: FAC00529

General Description

The Workforce Development Department at Community College of Philadelphia is seeking an experienced and credentialed Adjunct Faculty member to lead instruction in Non-Destructive Testing (NDT) as part of our programs in advanced manufacturing. The ideal candidate will possess both technical expertise and instructional experience in Visual, Magnetic Particle, Penetrant, and Ultrasonic Testing methods. This position plays a key role in equipping students with the applied skills necessary for high-demand careers in industrial inspection and quality control.

This part-time teaching role includes the potential for a faculty member to be considered for a full instructional load in the future. Candidates who are interested in potential full-time NDT teaching opportunities are encouraged to apply.

Workforce Development provides noncredit education to businesses, organizations, and individuals wishing to enhance their skill set and meet educational goals. We offer a comprehensive menu of high-quality continuing education and career-training programs brought to you by our expert faculty and staff.

College Intro

Community College of Philadelphia is an open-admission, predominantly Black institution and a minority-serving institution which provides access to higher education for all who may benefit. CCP's Strategic Plan affirms the College's long-standing commitment to quality, access, affordability and upward mobility while including an emphasis on diversity, equity and inclusion. This plan firmly plants student success at the center of all efforts, establishing the means for each student to achieve their goals.

Teaching faculty are an integral part of the larger Academic and Student Success Division at CCP including Workforce Development or Career Training. The Academic and Student Success Division is a community of learners committed to student success as demonstrated through equitable and measurable outcomes, innovative practices, relevant curriculum, quality learning, and a rewarding student experience. As a minority-serving institution, CCP faculty contribute significantly to our collective efforts to improve student success and eliminate racial equity gaps through the utilization of inclusive and high-quality teaching practices.
