General Statement

For over fifty years, Quinsigamond Community College has provided opportunities for a first-rate education and personal growth to thousands of area men and women. Some students choose to prepare for immediate entry into a career field. Some choose to transfer to bachelor's level programs at four-year colleges and universities, and some choose opportunities for personal growth and cultural enrichment. Quinsigamond Community College is seeking student-centered faculty and staff who are committed to the community college mission and actively engaged in promoting diversity.

The full-time workload for this position may take place in Worcester, Southbridge, or any other QCC instructional location.

Supervision Received

Reports to the Dean of the School of School for Computing & Applied Technology.

Supervision Exercised

The full-time faculty member exercises supervision over personnel assigned to them.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Teach a range of Advanced Manufacturing and related courses, which may include CNC operations, robotics and automation, quality control, blueprint reading, and CAD/CAM design.
- Provide classroom and laboratory instruction, incorporating hands-on, industry-relevant experiences that reflect current manufacturing technologies and standards.
- Develop and/or revise instructional materials and laboratory activities with other faculty members to ensure alignment with program outcomes, national credentials, and industry needs.
- Develop and apply instructional methods that engage students of varying learning styles and technical experience, including nontraditional learners and underrepresented populations.
- Develop and apply assessment strategies that measure student learning outcomes and promote continuous improvement in technical and professional competencies.
- Actively participate in program review, accreditation, and curriculum development, including integration of new technologies, equipment, and software.
- Provide academic advising and mentoring to students pursuing manufacturing and engineering pathways.

- Participate in college service activities in accordance with the provisions of the MCCC Agreement.
- Maintain and support operation of Advanced Manufacturing equipment
- Support operation in the QCC FABLAB, ensuring safe and effective student use
- Engage with industry partners and regional employers to align curriculum with workforce needs and support internship, apprenticeship, and job placement opportunities.
- Participate in recruitment and retention activities to grow the Advanced Manufacturing program.
- Perform other duties as assigned.

Job Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in Manufacturing Technology, Mechanical Engineering, Industrial Technology, or a closely related discipline.
- Demonstrated experience with CNC operations, robotics/automation, or CAD/CAM design software.
- Commitment to teaching excellence, student success, and equity-minded instruction.

Preferred Qualifications

- Master's degree in a related discipline.
- Three or more years of successful college-level teaching, preferably at a community college.
- Professional experience in product design, process improvement, quality assurance, or lean manufacturing.
- Familiarity with AutoCAD, SolidWorks, MasterCAM, Verisurf, or similar platforms.
- Documented experience in curriculum development, assessment, and accreditation processes.
- Demonstrated ability to collaborate effectively with industry partners and integrate national credentials into curriculum.
- Strong evidence of a commitment to workforce development and applied learning.
