General Description

The Department of Social Science invites applications for an adjunct position in Anthropology. Applicants should be able to teach two introductory subfield courses: Cultural Anthropology and sophomore-level ethnography courses.

Social Science comprises a variety of academic disciplines concerned with society and the relationship among individuals within a society. This department provides students with a strong liberal arts education that enables students to succeed in both academic and career pathways. Our amazing associate degree programs, certificate programs and multidisciplinary courses prepare students to pursue their bachelor's degrees and also careers in many fields. We offer opportunities for students to learn from experienced faculty, to conduct research, to gain practical skills related to their areas of study, and to perform fieldwork related to their interests.

College Intro

Community College of Philadelphia is an open-admission, predominantly Black institution and a minority-serving institution which provides access to higher education for all who may benefit. CCP's Strategic Plan affirms the College's long-standing commitment to quality, access, affordability and upward mobility while including an emphasis on diversity, equity and inclusion. This plan firmly plants student success at the center of all efforts, establishing the means for each student to achieve their goals.

Teaching faculty are an integral part of the larger Academic and Student Success Division at CCP including Workforce Development or Career Training. The Academic and Student Success Division is a community of learners committed to student success as demonstrated through equitable and measurable outcomes, innovative practices, relevant curriculum, quality learning, and a rewarding student experience. As a minority-serving institution, CCP faculty contribute significantly to our collective efforts to improve student success and eliminate racial equity gaps through the utilization of inclusive and high-quality teaching practices.

Specific Responsibilities

- Teach in-person and/or online Anthropology courses as assigned, to include Cultural Anthropology and aligned with the College's mission and program learning outcomes.
- Develop and maintain course materials, syllabi, and assessments that support student learning and success.
- Establish and maintain a supportive, inclusive, and engaging learning environment.
