the community and its students.

Dually designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution, SJECCD serves a very diverse student population. SJECCD is focused on meeting the needs of first-generation college attendees through enhanced academic, social, and emotional support services.

Located in the heart of Silicon Valley, SJECCD encompasses more than 300 square miles and is comprised of San José City College (SJCC), which was the first community college in Santa Clara County, established in 1921; Evergreen Valley College (EVC), established in 1975; and the San José – Evergreen Community College Extension at Milpitas, established in 2016.

The District's institutions play an integral role in elevating the educational and economic profile of the entire region. Guided by a strong District vision, San José City College, Evergreen Valley College, and the Milpitas Extension enjoy broad community support, which has been earned through their individual and collective positive impact on student success and achievement and their ongoing commitment to innovation in order to meet the evolving needs of students and the demands of an ever-changing regional workforce.

SJECCD is governed by an elected seven-member Board of Trustees, serving a population of nearly 900,000 people. To learn more about the District, the position, and qualifications sought in the next Chancellor, click here.
