- Writing tutors are students or professional teachers whose goal is to share their knowledge of writing strategies with student writers. The tutor offers a reader's response to a given piece of writing and can coach the student regarding assignment instructions, writing strategies, and grammar conventions. A tutor's goal should be to help produce a better writer instead of just one piece of writing.
- Tutors are not required to have in-depth knowledge of the subject matter of students' writing projects; their concern is with the writing itself. Moreover, tutors cannot be held responsible for the quality of the final product the student submits to the instructor.

Additional Duties & Responsibilities

Perform other duties as assigned.

Minimum Education, Experience, Knowledge, Skills & Abilities

- Successful completion (B or better) in ENGL 1301 and ENGL 1302 (or their equivalent)
- Demonstrated understanding of and ability to produce academic papers
- Excellent writing and communication skills
- Ability to listen to students' needs and requests
- In-depth knowledge of grammatical conventions
- Knowledge of Microsoft Word and basic computer usage
- Ability to work cooperatively with a diverse student population
- Self-motivation, organizational skills, and punctuality
- Must be available to work evenings and weekends as needed
